Medical Comments: Employee was attempting to loosen a $1 / 2$ inch pipe, pulling back with wrench. Heard a "crackling" noise and felt pain in right upper bicep.

ESH Comments: The employee was working at the Meson Central Cryogenics building replacing a relief valve and relocating some associated piping on top of a purifier. To accomplish the task, he was standing on a ladder and was approximately 12 ft above the floor. While attempting to loosen pipe connections with a wrench, he felt a sharp pain in the right bicep/shoulder area. He reported to the Medical Office, where he received first aid treatment and was returned to work with no limitations. At a follow-up evaluation on $8 / 2 / 10$ with the Medical Office, the employee was given a limitation with respect to the use of his right arm. This limitation will prevent the employee from performing some of his routine job functions, so the case is DART.

Medical Comments: Subcontractor was on a ladder, inspecting weld with flashlight. Area fan blew particles into left eye. Stopped work, and flushed eyes. Reported to Fermilab medical office next morning, but no foreign bodies were found.

ESH Comments: The individual (T&M subcontractor) was inspecting welds when an HVAC unit started and debris remaining from the removal of insulation was stirred up and entered his eye. The individual was wearing eye protection (safety glasses) at the time of the incident and responded appropriately by washing out the eye immediately. He reported to the Fermilab Medical Department the next day for an evaluation.
